DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Species 1 in the reply filed on March 7, 2005 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the open transitional phrase "comprising" has been constructed to read on many of the species cited in the office action. This is not found persuasive because the transitional phrase "comprising" is used to define the scope of the claim with respect to what unrecited additional components or steps, if any, are excluded from the scope of the claim, not to define or disclose the relationship between independent inventions. The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claims 4 – 7 and 11 – 21 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on March 7, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 – 3 and 8 – 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Raidel et al. (WO 98/43684).

With respect to claim 1, Raidel et al. (hereinafter "Raidel") discloses an interlabial pad comprising an absorbing sheet portion (18) facing a body side when the pad is worn, the absorbing sheet portion including an absorbent body (36) that absorbs body fluid, and a support sheet (20) backing the absorbing sheet portion; wherein the absorbing sheet portion is formed as an aggregate (44) juxtaposing a plurality of strip-type absorbing areas (28) in a belt shape which include independent absorbent bodies; and wherein the strip-type absorbing areas disposed on a central portion of the absorbing sheet portion form a body fluid discharge port contact area that contacts a vicinity of a body fluid discharge port of the user; and wherein the strip-type absorbing areas disposed on both outwardly-folded sides of the absorbing sheet portion form a labia inner wall contact area that contacts an inner wall of the user's labia as set forth in figure 2.

With reference to claim 2, Raidel discloses an interlabial pad wherein a side end of the labia inner wall contact area comprises an arc-shaped portion; and wherein both edge ends of the arch-shaped portion converge toward edge ends in a longitudinal direction of the body fluid discharge port contact area as set forth in figure 2.

As to claim 3, Raidel discloses an interlabial pad wherein the body fluid discharge port contact area and/or the labia inner wall contact area is divided into a plurality of portions as set forth in figure 2.

Regarding claims 8 – 10, see the abstract and figures 2 – 5.
